Does anyone know how I can get my divs to align with the navigation links. A: If you're using a css reset, perhaps you should include it. And just in case you need to reposition the menu, I would suggest putting: top: 20px; left: 0; in your menu css. Schistosomal spermatozoal agglutination in the CBA mouse. It is a matter of debate whether schistosomiasis affects fertility. In mammals, the testicular function is highly dependent on hormones. We used the CBA/N strain mouse infected with the parasite Schistosoma mansoni, and we examined whether the infection interfered with the hormonal regulation of spermatogenesis. The results showed that there was a low fertility rate in infected animals. The numbers of midpachysmal spermatozoa, the maximum number of spermatozoa occurring during the spermatogenesis, was significantly lower than in control animals. There was also an increase in the number of spermatozoa with double tails. These data indicate that there was some impairment in the process of spermatogenesis. Surprisingly, the presence of viable eggs in the seminiferous tubules was found only in females. This could be due to differences in the hormonal regulation of spermatogenesis between the sexes. Q: Python: create multiple lists from dict comprehension Using a dict comprehension, I can create a list from the dict using [[k,v] for k,v in d.items()] However, how do I create a multiple list from this dict? I tried using a list comprehension on the variable before the dict comprehension, but it doesn't like that. [[k,v] for k,v in d.items()] for i in d: list1.append(d[i]) This works, but I was wondering if there was a better way to do this. A: You can do like below: l1

There are a small handful of elite athletes every year who are capable of more than just great stats or swimmers. There are a small handful of them every year that who are capable of being more than just great athletes. They are like Andre Agassi, or like Kanye. They are, like O.J., and unlike Brett Favre. But these outliers
